From the Louisville Courier-Journal, June 25.

ONE OF THE TEXAS PRISONERS.

We find in the Harrison Flag, published at Marshall, Texas, a letter from the intelligent and accomplished wife of Mr. C. L. Pitcher, one of the Jefferson prisoners who have been confined in the stockade at that place for many months. Mrs. Pitcher's statement is well calculated to create indignation in the heart of every honest man at the shameful tyranny practiced by the Federal military officers. The exercise of such tyranny is a crime, as distinctly a crime as robbery or murder, and it should, like them, be punished as a crime.

Mrs. Pitcher writes from Jefferson. She explains, so far as she knows, why her husband, with no accusation against him, was consigned to prison. She says that on the 9th of last February she discharged, as a matter of necessity, two of her negro servants, a man and his wife. They were very angry at being discharged, and uttered threats as to what they would do. On the evening of the same day a Federal officer entered Mr. Pitcher's store, on pretense of purchasing some article, and asked, as it casually, which of the persons present was Mr. Pitcher. On being answered, he walked up to Mr. P., arrested him, and compelled him to go before the commander of the post, by whom he was sent to the stockade, not a single word being deigned by either of the officers as to the cause of the treatment. Having been in the stockade for months, his confinement became so irksome and intolerable, his health so bad, and his pecuniary loss so great, that, in his impatience and suffering, he wrote letters of complaint, which, on account of their exact truth, exasperated the Commander. As a consequence, on the 30th ultimo, on his return from the court room, where he was undergoing his trial, he was shut up in a cell six feet by eight, the walls being three plank deep and almost air tight. He was kept in that horrid and stifling den for 12 hours, when, in consequence of the surgeon's giving a written opinion that he would die if he remained there longer, small apertures were made in the cell, but he was not removed from it. Up to the date of his wife's letter, he was kept in close confinement, allowed, notwithstanding the extreme delicacy of his health, only the rations of a common soldier, debarred from seeing his wife, denied the privilege of reading, and even a light at night, and forbidden to see a minister of the gospel or to have a copy of the Bible.

Mrs. Pitcher says that she shall appeal in her husband's behalf to Gen. Reynolds and to the President of the United States, but evidently all her appeals and those of others can do no good. There can be no hope that the high functionaries, who have so long practiced or tolerated the most cruel persecutions with a full knowledge of their existence, will correct them now.—The relations between Texas and the United States, according to Grant's Attorney General, are the relations of war, the last dying Mr. Pitcher is a prisoner of war, and, when he shall have been sentenced by the Military Commission and executed, he and his fellow-prisoners will probably be huddled into the ground and marine guards stationed over their dust whenever there shall be a Federal apprehension that flowers may be thrown by the hand of affection upon their graves.

MORMON ASSASSINS.

The Salt Lake Reporter gives the following account of Brigham Young's cut throats:

"A certain number, said to be 12, of the most desperate characters in the church, were selected from among the Danites to commit such assassinations as might be found necessary by the prophet for the 'welfare' and 'advancement' of his holy cause. The murder of Gov. Boggs fortunately failed, and at least one of the would-be murderers is now known to live in Utah. Both of these secret societies now exist in Salt Lake City.

"The discipline is more perfect under Brigham Young than under Joe Smith, and consequently the aims more sure, the objects more certainly accomplished. No sooner does a Gentile enter Salt Lake City than he is placed under the surveillance of the secret police. A member of the Danite organization is deputed to watch him from the time he comes until he leaves. His habits, words and careless expressions of opinion are noted and reported, that the Mormon authorities may determine whether he is a friend, a secret enemy, or an open and avowed opposer of Mormon iniquity. The day has been when expressions of opinions inimical to the Mormon leaders would result in assassination to the bold defender, and sometimes even the mere suspicion that a Gentile was opposed to Mormon rule would produce such a result.

"The true secret of Brigham's great success in controlling the discordant elements of which his church is composed is due to fears of the Danites. The Mormons know that certain death by assassination awaits a violation of their oath, and that it is sure to come with the opportunity. It is true that many apostates have escaped assassination, but this was owing to the fact that they used subterfuge to place themselves beyond Brigham's power; but even instances are not wanting of Danites having followed apostates into different cities of the United States, hoping for a favorable opportunity to assassinate. Others escape because for the time it is deemed inexpedient to kill them. Recent mysterious deaths of Gentiles near Salt Lake City have for a short time excited comment, but finally they have been forgotten. No coroner's inquests have investigated facts and circumstances, and no inquiry has been made by the authorities into the cause of their deaths. But such a system cannot be perpetuated. The government must, sooner or later, throw her protecting banner over her citizens in Utah, and not allow it to be scuffled at and spit upon by a vile and treacherous priesthood."

Grant's new organ, "The Imperialist" praises the Grand Army of the Republic, and tells precisely the number of fighting men it can bring into the field at an hour's notice." It says: "It is a disciplined army of four hundred thousand strong. This silent, unnoticed army garrisons the entire North." This advocate of monarchy is the confidential organ of the "Grand Army of the Republic." The "Grand Army of the Republic," drilling to overthrow the Republic and establish a monarch, would be a fitting finale to the reign of deviltry inaugurated by the election of Lincoln.—Stark County (Ohio) Democrat.

THE Ætna is the LEADING LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY in North Carolina.
Largest amount of Losses to Widows and Orphans!
The Largest Revenue to the States. And has by far the largest number when compared with 58 Companies reported officially by the Commissioners of New York and Massachusetts it will be seen that the Ætna ranks as one of the first Companies of the Continent. But two of the fifty-eight Companies permitted to do business in New York and Massachusetts had so large an income for the year 1868; but two had so large a number of Policies in force, but one among all those incorporated under the laws of the State of New York had so small a per centage of Expense to Income during the year 1868.
Its expenses are lower than most Companies', and consequently its ability to make and pay liberal dividends to the insured is greater than that of most other Companies. It is one of the great Companies of the land in Income, in Assets, in Number of Policies, in Amount Insured, in Solidity and Strength, in Soundness, Cheapness, Promptness, and Success. Persons contemplating this mode of investment in the future as in the past would do well to examine the claims of all and take a policy accordingly.

SPARKLING CATAWBA SPRINGS,
CATAWBA COUNTY, N. C.
THIS CELEBRATED WATERING PLACE, formerly called the North Carolina White Sulphur Springs, will be open for visitors on Tuesday, the first day of June next.
Being situated in the north-western part of the State in a country remarkable for its beauty and healthfulness—these, together with the virtue of the waters, make it one of the most desirable watering places to be found.
The MINERAL WATERS of these Springs are of the White and Blue Sulphur and Chalybeate or Iron, and they possess all the finest qualities of these waters, and are sovereign remedies for all diseases of the liver, bowels, stomach and kidneys, eruptions of the skin, scrofula, weakness, debility dyspepsia, rheumatism, &c.
The proprietor having spent a large amount in additional buildings and improvements generally, these Springs are now in a fine condition, rooms large and pleasant, and good cottages containing from two to six rooms each, well arranged for either large or small families.
Good TEN PIN ALLEYS, BILLIARD TABLES and other amusements.
FINE BATH HOUSES, for Pool, Plunge or Shower Bath, Sulphur Bath, Hot or Cold.
A GOOD BAND OF MUSIC
Will be at the Springs the entire season, and a good Physician permanently located for the benefit of invalids, who will have every attention.
Having secured the services of Mr. J. N. Carter, of Virginia, who has had much experience and stands high as a Hotel keeper, visitors may rest assured that my table will be supplied with the best the market can afford, and everything done that will add to their pleasure and comfort.
The cars on the Western North Carolina Rail Road will leave Salisbury for Hickory Station, the Springs' depot, every morning, (Sundays excepted,) in connection with the North Carolina Railroad, avoiding stoppage or delay at Salisbury, and arrive at Hickory Station in time for breakfast, where good hacks will be in readiness to take passengers over a beautiful, well-shaded road to the Springs—a distance of six miles.
As an inducement for families and parties to spend two months or more, I have concluded to put board down at the following low rates:

ROBERT SOUTTER,
OF GRANVILLE COUNTY,
Reading the importance of appreciating the growth of Wheat in this County; and the farmers, knowing so well the absolute necessity of supplying themselves at an early period with "Seed Wheat" of the finest quality, ready to plant in the Fall, the undersigned takes this early method of inviting applications from farmers, for what they may require to plant next Fall, of the very "Select Seed Wheat" which he expects to deliver at moderate prices, from the crop growing now at his "Oakland Farm" near Townsville, in this County.
This Wheat was planted last Fall, with Guano, of seed selected in Baltimore with great care by my predecessor, Mr. Chas. H. K. Taylor, who paid $3,25 for it there. It has had the advantage of a heavy top-dressing in Spring of Chicago bone Fertiliser, and is now very promising.
Like the good Sorghum Seed which I have offered to the farmers of Granville, I hope the orders for my "Seed Wheat" may be equally attractive, to absorb all that I can expect to spare of it.
Address me at Kittrell's Springs, or Mr. Thos. W. Taylor, at Oakland Farm.

THE SENTINEL.

JOSIAH TURNER, Jr., EDITOR.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 30, 1869.

MUSIC, ELOQUENCE AND POETRY.

All admit, without argument to convince, that eloquence and poetry exercise great influence over the passions. Music is capable of making as deep and lively impression upon the passions as any other art. We see no reason why music should not be taught in the University. Certain it is, that, teaching the severer sciences alone, the University has dried up.

Music and the graces are not incompatible with the severer sciences. In fact, they adorn them. Socrates learned to play the violin after he was sixty. Tom Moore, with his guitar and his own sweet song, could melt the heart of man or woman. Professor Patrick, with his banjo, has pleased and delighted all Georgia.

The cultivation of the softer virtues have been too much neglected at Chapel Hill Music will seize at once upon a young man's heart, and impress him with a sense of the lovely and the beautiful. That young men should be taught justice, wisdom and fortitude, we at once admit; but let them at the same time be taught the softer virtues, such as compassion, kindness, easiness and evenness of temper. If the Supreme Court, at College, had been taught music and the softer virtues, we have no idea they would have served that weak, wicked despotic rule upon the Bar for a supposed contempt.

We have been led into these reflections upon music and the softer virtues by what we heard in Rockingham about Professor Patrick. He was a great secessionist, and threatened, like the old Quartermaster, Judge Rodman, to leave the State and go to South Carolina if North Carolina did not secede instanter. The election of Lincoln was just cause for war, &c.—The Professessor went in the army as volunteer, but he did not do like Rodman, get a Quartermaster's place. So he came out and got a substitute. We are not informed whether his substitute was killed or not, nor is it pertinent to the present subject.

The next we hear of the Professor is after the surrender he is ably teaching a little school in or about Madison, in the county of Rockingham. The school languished and languishing did die. The school perished under the Chapel Hill system of teaching only the "sterner sciences."—Music and the softer sciences were not taught in this Madison school. The Professor, with a one horse wagon and honey dew tobacco, and a sweet toned banjo, set out for Augusta, Georgia, peddling on to bacco and picking on the banjo. It was a delightful trip, and showed the power of music over man. He sold out his tobacco and made himself as acceptable, in every house with his banjo, as Goldsmith did on the continent with his flute. No peddler, from all Rockingham, has ever been so highly esteemed in Georgia, as Peddler Patrick. He performed on the banjo to the admiration of all the natives.

With these lights before us, and the University prostrate in the dust, who will question the propriety of a change of system by less cultivation of the sterner and a greater cultivation of the softer sciences.

The University is open to all colors under the Constitution, as is the Lunatic Asylum, yet there is no negro at the one and but few in the other, and Howe, because of his color, was not allowed to sit at the table of the Superintendent.

No one can doubt the aptitude of the negro to the banjo and his love of music and song. Then why not have a Chair of Music in the University, and Patrick to fill it. Tuition is now free at the University. Make board and lodging free and the wards of the nation will soon fill up the vacant rooms, and smooth over the waste places about Chapel Hill. Where President Swain with pride and pleasure lectured to 500 youths, President Peel with more pride and more pleasure will lecture to twenty-five hundred and Patrick could fill up the interlude by teaching all to sing:

"Lay down the shovel and the hoe,
And take up the fiddle and the bow,
There's no more hard work for poor old Ned,"
And his boys all to College may go.

THE New York Evening Telegram says, "attempted outrages upon white women by negroes are becoming fearfully numerous. The teachings of his Radical masters seem to be thrown away upon Sambo."

The Telegram has not read the "Address," sent out by eighty members of the N. C. Legislature, nor made itself familiar with the nocturnal lectures of the Radical leaders of the Leagues in the South, nor read the North Carolina Standard's article, entitled "Work," else it would have seen that "Sambo" is making great proficiency in the teachings of his "Radical masters." These teachings are daily developing, not only in the frequent report of "negro outrages on white women," but in the crowded state of the jails, the lengthened terms and consequent expense of our Courts; the constantly recurring acts of incendiarism in the country; the utter insecurity of stock of all kinds, and the herds of lazy, half-clad Samboes that are found congregated about our towns and cities, waiting to be converted into public functionaries by the carpet bag administrations of the Southern States. No; the teachings of the Radical masters have not been thrown away on Sambo, on the contrary, he has made wonderful progress in his studies, and profited greatly by the example of his teachers. They advise their itinerant stump speakers to insult the wives and daughters of Southern rebels, Sambo outrages the first defenceless female he gets a chance at; they swindle a State out of a hundred thousand dollars for a Penitentiary site, he steals the next hog he finds outside its owner's premises; they burden the State with millions for Railroad schemes, he modestly shares the pickings of a city improvement swindle. In short, both teacher and pupil are endeavoring to demonstrate the problem of how much can be stolen in the shortest space of time; of how much rascality can be concocted in the least amount of brains, and in this course of training, though Sambo can never hope to rival his master, he bids very fair to graduate with second honors.

SUPREME COURT.

Opinion of Supreme Court Delivered by Chief Justice Pearson, in the Case of S. S. Harrell, Administrator vs. Meridith Watson Et al from Hertford Co.

We listened with pleasure to the argument of Mr. Yeates. He was candid and seems to have investigated the subject with much diligence; but we cannot concur in his conclusions.

He says, the bond is void for want of a consideration. The reply is: 1st. A bond needs no consideration. The solemn act of sealing and delivering is a deed, a thing done, which, by the rule of the common law, has full force and effect, without any consideration. Nudum pactum applies only to simple contracts—deeds need no consideration except such as take effect under the doctrine of uses, or such as are made void by the statutes of Elizabeth as against creditors and purchasers for valuable consideration, but are valid as at common law between the parties.

This is a misapprehension of the law into which many of the profession seem to have fallen by reason of inaccuracy in Blackstone's Commentaries, who, we take occasion to say, is a popular, and not an accurate text writer like Coke or Fearn. For instance, Blackstone adopts the definition given by Coke of a deed—"an instrument of writing on parchment or paper sealed and delivered"—and yet he afterwards goes on to say, "a deed must be supported by a sufficient consideration." His remark is evidently to be understood, as having reference to the deeds taking effect under the doctrine of uses, and to the statutes of Elizabeth. For, beyond all question, a deed is binding between the parties without any consideration. 2nd. There was, in our case, a valuable consideration. The slave bargained for was delivered to the defendant at the date of sale in September 1864 and he had his services until 1865, and upon the supposition that the thing sold, to-wit: the negro, was in fact a freeman and not the subject of sale from and after the proclamation of Jan 1, 1863. The defendant had notice of this fact, as well as the plaintiff, and according to the rule of law and of equity and of justice in its ordinary sense, "he who is to have the gain should bear the loss," as is said, Bale vs. Parker, 63 N. C., 131. The matter depended upon future contingencies, and the defendant gave his bond for the price and took the chances.

The reference made by Mr. Yeates to the law author ing an inquiry in regard to contracts payable expressly or impliedly in currency, and allowing a jury to fix the value thereof, has no application to our case, for it turns not on the value, but on the validity of the obligation sued upon.

In the second place, Mr. Yeates took the position that the bond was void as against the policy of the law, in this, by the proclamation of the President of January 1st, 1863, all slaves are set free from and after that date. So, at the time of the sale, the person sold was not a slave but a free man.

Admitting the premises, we do not see how the conclusion follows. Say, according to the view of President Lincoln, the person sold was a free man at the time of the sale, how could it obstruct his policy, that the supposed title to the person as a slave was afterwards transferred from A to B. Certainly it could make no difference in legal effect, whether the individual was held as a slave by the one or the other, provided under the existing state of things, the individual was to be held as a slave in the same locality.

But we do not admit the premises, to wit: that by force of the proclamation of the President, all slaves are set free from and after January 1st, 1863.

By the act of Congress of July, 1862 "The slaves of persons who shall hereafter give aid to the rebellion, taking refuge within the lines of the army," and "all slaves captured from such persons, or deserted by them, and coming under the control of the government of the United States," and "all slaves of such persons, found or being within any place, occupied by rebel forces, and afterwards occupied by the forces of the United States, shall be deemed captives of war, and shall be forever free of their servitude, and not again held as slaves."

This act of the legislative branch of the government of the United States is, by its terms, confined to slaves personally, and applies only to such individuals as may come under the control of the government. It recognizes the existence of slavery, and cannot in any point of view, have the effect of abolishing and making unlawful the institution of slavery in the States where the institution then existed and was recognized by law.

The proclamation of the President is simply a war measure of the executive branch of the government, called for in order to announce what States were in rebellion, and to what localities the act of 1862 was applicable. It does not profess and indeed the President, without the concurrence of the legislative branch of the government, could not arrogate to himself the power, as a war measure, to abolish and make unlawful the institution of slavery in the States, declared by him to be in rebellion; so far from assuming power to do so, the proclamation is, by its terms, confined to slaves personally, and in its practical effect it was limited to such slaves individually as should come under the control of the armies of the United States, so the institution of slavery was not abolished or made unlawful, either by the act of 1862 or by the proclamation of the President.—See "Whiting on the war powers of the President," 5 6.

In like manner the military order of Gen. Sherman, after the surrender, simply had the effect of announcing, that the whole State was then under the control of the army of the United States, and that by force of the act of 1862, and the proclamation of the President, and the order of General Sherman as military commander, all persons then held as slaves in the State of North Carolina were free and should be so treated. This operated upon persons then held as slaves in the State of North Carolina, but surely a military order could not have the effect of abolishing or making unlawful the institution of slavery. That was left as an act that could only be done by the government of the United States or by an ordinance of a convention of the people of the State; apart from the action of the government of the United States and the Convention of the State, there could have been, in legal contemplation, no more wrong in procuring other slaves to supply the place of those taken from us by the results of the war, than in buying other property to put in place of that taken from us by the armies of the United States and of the Confederate States.

So our case comes back to this point: in April 1864, the plaintiff, as administrator, in the county of Hertford, which was not within the lines or under the control of the army of the United States, offers for sale, according to the laws of the State and does sell at auction a negro man slave. The defendant becomes the purchaser, pays a part of the price, takes the slave, and executes his bond for the balance of the price. In what point of view can this transaction be considered against public policy, or as so violating good morals as to authorize a court of justice to refuse to enforce the contract? As is said (Hooker vs. Phillips, Phil. Eq. 200) "the transaction was one in the ordinary course of business, done without any reference to the operations of the government of the United States or of the Confederate States, without any criminal intent to aid the rebellion, and to hold the contract void, will simply have the effect to encourage dishonesty."

It was not against the public policy of the State of North Carolina, according to the laws then existing and recognized both by the wrongful government then in power, and the rightful government which was, for the time, deprived of its power. It was not against the policy of the act of Congress, 1862, or of the proclamation of the President, for as we have seen, it could not effect that policy in localities not under the control of the armies of the United States, whether a person was held as a slave by A or by B, provided, under the circumstances, he was to be the slave of some person. So far as good morals are involved, the matter is not to be viewed, as we conceive, from a standpoint, where the institution of slavery is deemed wicked and in violation of the laws of God and of the rights of man; but from a standpoint, where the institution was considered as established and made lawful by the laws of the State, and recognized and protected by the Constitution of the United States, and, as such, had been handed down and acted upon from father to son among our people from the first settlement of the colony of Carolina.

The Court is unable to see any ground, either on the score of public policy or of good morals, upon which it should refuse to enforce this contract and allow the defendant to escape the payment of a just debt.

Woodfin vs. Sluder, Phil. 200 is in point, true the question was not made, but that proves it had not entered into the head of any one to conceive that the act of hiring a slave or of selling a slave in North Carolina outside of the lines of the U. S. army, was against public policy, or against good morals.

The idea, that the subsequent action of Congress and the ordinance of our Convention, can have the effect by relation or by post limini to enlarge the operation of the act of 1862 and of the proclamation so as to give to these measures the effect of abolishing slavery, and making the institution unlawful at the date of this transaction, and consequently making the act of the parties wicked and against good morals, has, in our opinion, nothing sound to rest on either in law, ethics or good sense. "Coming events cast their shadows before them," but "events accomplished" do not cast a shade behind, so as to make unlawful that which at the time it was done, was not against law. This would violate the immutable principle of justice adopted in our Constitution, by which ex post facto laws are forbidden. There is no error.

WHO IS ROBESON?

From the Newark, (N. J.,) Journal.

Mr. Robeson is a native of Warren county, a son of the late Judge Robeson, once a standing Whig candidate for Governor.—He studied law in this city, and practiced here and at Jersey City with great success. At Camden he did somewhat better. He was appointed Attorney General of this State by Governor Ward, after that office, it is said, had been promised by the Governor to Mr. Cortlandt Parker, without that gentleman's soliciting it. Mr. Robeson has the reputation of being a genial, whole-souled gentleman. He will doubtless render Grannt's Cabinet exceedingly lively. As to General Robeson's abilities for this position, we learn they are considered first rate. He used to make very successful trips to Coney Island and the Fishing Banks, and on one occasion, we hear, sailed from New York to Philadelphia in one of our naval vessels, amusing the Commander's cabin with entertaining salt water yarns. Rob son knows as much about the navy as either Borie or Welles.

THE ARREST OF FRENCH JOURNALISTS.—Galignani, of the 14 h, contains the following paragraph regarding the arrests of French editors:

"MM. Quentin and Cournet, writers on the Revent, have been arrested and taken to the Prison Mazas. M. Morel, belonging to the same journal, and M. Bocquet, advocate, have also been taken into custody, all on a charge of conspiring to upset the government. After the perquisition made at the Rappel office, M. Lafontaine, a young member of the Paris bar, and formerly secretary to M. Ernest Picard, was arrested. Warrants were likewise issued against M. Paul Meurice, M. Auguste Arnaud and M. Auguste Vacquerie, who have all thought fit to suddenly quit Paris. Also four speakers at the public electoral meetings—MM. Ulysse Parent, Brisone, Murat and L francais—have been taken up. M. Herbert, editor of the Elegeur Lobre; M. Chapon, gerant, and M. Valles, printer, have been summoned to appear before an examining magistrate. M. Fouray, gerant of the Opinion Nationale, has received a similar notice."

TOO PHILANTHROPIC.—Last fall a negro of Hartford, Connecticut, committed a nameless outrage upon a little girl of that place. She was abused in a shocking manner—a loathsome disease being inflicted upon her in addition to her other injuries. The negro told her that he was "going to have her sister next." The negro was arrested, confessed his crime and was sentenced to jail for six years and has now served about half of one year; but the philanthropists think he has suffered sufficient for one of the poor down-trodden race, and are urging the Legislative committee to release him. They say "his health is failing and he spits blood." What a pity. Has any one of these tender hearted, snivveling hypocrities thought to speak a word in pity for the poor little girl, ruined for life in the hands of this manhood, who should be made to weep blood, as spit it, in atonement for his inhuman and devilish crime. Philanthrophy is well enough when devoted to a proper case; but it needs a rebuke when it seeks to aid and abet such a crime as this.

Among the fresh candidates for the place of Grimes, of Iowa, in the Cabinet are Gov. Kirkwood, Chief Justice J. H. Wilson, George G. Wright, D. N. Cooley, G. R. Willet, and Hiram Price.

Over three hundred negroes have recently left Southwestern Virginia for the more Southern States. From almost every other section of Virginia it is stated that they are taking up the line of march southward.

For the Sentinel.

CONSOLIDATION—THE REASONS WHY.

1. The distance to Morehead City is sixty miles less than to Norfolk, and the grade quite as favorable—therefore, sixty miles cheaper; this is the whole story,—as freight and insurance, we believe, can be had as low from one as from the other.

2 The consolidated Road will have but one set of officers, of depots and other expenses, while the North Carolina, the Gaston and the Seaboard would have three sets, and, of course, be at greater expense.

3. Consolidation would enhance the credit of the one Company beyond that of either separately.

4. Harmony and prompt action, conspicuous virtues in Railroading, would be secured by consolidation.

5 Because consolidation would make the North Carolina Road master of the situation, to the great advantage of the people of the State and of the Stockholders.

6. Because it is the only sure mode of averting a coalition monopoly to Norfolk.

7. Because the route to Norfolk would continue open and accessible as now it is.

8. Because it is the only mode by which a sound and healthy competition for freights can be secured to the public.

9. Because consolidation would render the Road from Raleigh to Goldsboro' profitable, which now it cannot be.

10. Because consolidation would give a choice of several routes to Norfolk, Wilmington, Morehead City and Newbern, whereas without it, there will, virtually, be but one route.

11. The law compelling the several Roads to carry mutually for each other at same rates as for themselves, insures fair play to all the Roads, in which case the consolidated Road could offer the greatest inducements.

12 Because the opponents to consolidation are not its Stockholders or its friends, but its competitors are its opponents.

13 In the contest, the odds are all against consolidation, because every one knows that in all secret negotiations and diplomacy, he combined influence of the Gaston Road, the Seaboard, the Roads to Petersburg and Richmond, the Road from Goldsboro to Wilmington, the Bay Line of Steamers, the Ocean Line to New York from Portsmouth, the cities of Wilmington, Norfolk, Baltimore, Petersburg and Richmond, can in a thousand different ways inject obstacles to consolidation, which the poverty of the Atlantic Company could not overcome, how generous a saver might be its inclination. Then the hosts of correspondents thoughout this State with the above cities, fearing that the consolidated road might turn much business to Morehead City, are naturally averse to this interruption to their trade, and give their powerful persuasions against consolidation. It is very apparent also, that individuals so situated as to have voices potential in this matter, should they choose to consult private advantage, without reference to its public aspect and effect on the Stockholders can do much, very much to defeat consolidation, and they will have every temptation to do so. The Stockholders will have to guard their judgment against all these influences, rivals of their interest. The whole strength of consolidation is in its axiomatic justice and propriety—its danger, from the blandishments and seductions by the wealth and diplomacy of these formidable rival interests.

The objection most strenuously urged against consolidation, even if true, is wholly without weight, to wit: that insurance and perhaps freight would be higher from Morehead City than from Norfolk, because no one is forced to ship by way of Morehead City—Norfolk will continue as freely accessible as ever. Why not make Morehead City also as accessible at possible for those who wish to go there?

If it were not cheaper to Morehead City than to Norfolk, we should hear not one word of opposition to consolidation. This is the vital point. The consolidated will not lose a pound of freight by consolidation, but will probably have an immense increase go on that portion between Raleigh and Goldsboro, which without consolidation would never pass over it.

The pressure and solicitations from so many and such powerful influences as we have enumerated may sway many stockholders against consolidation, but upon the naked merits of the case, no unbiassed and intelligent mind, it would seem, could for a moment hesitate to secure consolidation as a pre eminent advantage to the stock, as well as to all who have freight to send or receive.

AN AWFUL ALTERNATIVE.—The Fort Atkinson (Wisconsin) Herald has the following:

A dreadful report was current in this village yesterday that a mad dog had bitten two children—a boy of seven years and a girl of four—in the town of Milford, in this county, and that the parents, whose names we did not learn, were informed by the attending physicians that the only possible way for the children to escape the agonies of rabies would be to take their lives. Incredible as it may seem, they administered an opiate to the boy and bled him to death, and the girl was smothered in a feather bed. There seems to be no doubt of this, as it is well attested.

SAGACITY OF THE HORSE.—A blind horse wandered into White river at Indianapolis, and getting beyond his depth, swam around in a circle, trying to find his way out. His distress attracted another horse, no far away on the bank, who first went to the water's edge and tried to direct the blind horse by neighing. Failing in this he took to the water and swam out to his relief, and after swimming around him for nearly a quarter of an hour he finally got the blind horse to understand in what direction the land lay, and the two horse came to shore side by side, amid the cheers of one hundred persons who had become spectators.

Smith courted Miss Brown, and so did Jones. She married Jones despite Smith's groans. With pain in his breath, Smith went out West. This was in '49. (Now, don't forget the date.) In less that two years he had dried his tears, but refusing to mingle he remained single. In 1862 he concluded to go down and visit the old neighbors in his native town. As he approached he met a damsel aged fifteen.—There was something in her features he remembered to have seen. "It must be her daughter," he hastened to conclude, so he ventured to accost her (not thinking to intrude.) This dialogue ensued:

Smith (who lisped a little)—"A'n't your name Joneth?"

Miss Jones—"Yes, sir."

Smith—"A'n't you Mrs. Than Joneth daughter?"

Miss Jones—"Yes, sir."

Smith—"Well, Joneth, I come plaguey near being your father wonth!"

Miss Sarah T. Lovell, who died on the 15th, at Bangor, Maine, at 73, had been 36 years in bed with consumption, and succeeded in surviving a whole family, none of whom, herself excepted, had the disease.

Mr. Patrick Sarsfield Gilmore, of Athlone, is proposed by the Boston Traveller as the recipient of $100,000 from the liberal hands of Boston, and all for getting off the jubilee.

CHILD STOLEN!

ONE THOUSAND DOLLARS REWARD will be given by its bereaved Mother, for his safe return. Was missing from home on the 6th of October, 1866, and nothing has since been heard direct from him, but information has been received that such a little Boy was seen to pass through Oxford, in the possession of a wagoner, and is now supposed to be in Granville, Person, Orange, Guilford Rockingham, N. C., or Halifax County, Va. When taken away he was four years old, a beautiful fair skin, blue-eyed boy. Kind reader, is there such a boy in the family of any wagoner in your neighborhood?

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

The reputation this excellent medicine enjoys, is derived from its cures, many of which are of a truly marvellous character. Inveterate cases of scrofula, where the system seemed utterly given up to corruption, have yielded to this compound of anti-strumous virtues. Disorder of a scrofulous type, and affections which are merely aggravated by the presence of scrofulous matter, have been radically cured in such numerous instances, in every settlement in the country, that the public do not need to be informed here that it is in most cases a speedy and absolute remedy.

Scrofulous poison is one of the most destructive enemies of our race. Often, this unseen and unfelt tenant of the organism undermines the constitution, and invites the attack of enfeebling or fatal diseases, without exciting a suspicion of its presence. Again, it seems to breed infection throughout the body, and then, on some favorable occasion, rapidly develops into one or other of its hideous forms, either on the surface or among the vitals. In the latter, tubercles may be suddenly deposited in the lungs or heart, or tumors formed in the liver. These facts make the occasional use of the Sarsaparilla as a preventive, advisable.

It is a mistake to suppose that so long as no eruptions or humors appear, there must be no scrofulous taint. These forms of derangement may never occur, and yet the vital forces of the body be so reduced by its subtle agency, as materially to impair the health and shorten the duration of life. It is a common error, also, that scrofula is strictly hereditary. It does, indeed, descend from parent to child, but is also engendered in persons born of pure blood. Low living, indigestion, foul air, filthy habits, uncleanliness, and the depressing vices generally, produce it. Weakly constitutions, where not scrofibed by the most constant and judicious care, are peculiarly liable to it. Yet the robust, also, whose turbid blood swells the veins with an apparently exuberant vitality, are often contaminated, and on the road to its consequences. Indeed, no class or condition can depend on immunity from it, nor feel insensible to the importance of an effectual remedy.

In St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Sore Ears and Eyes, and other eruptive or tubular forms of the diseases caused primarily by the scrofulous infection, the Sarsaparilla is as efficient as to be indispensable. And in the more concealed forms, as in Dyspepsia, Dropsy, Heart Disease, Fits, Epilepsy, Neuralgia, and other affections of the muscular and nervous systems, the Sarsaparilla, through its purifying power, removes the cause of the disorder and produces astonishing cures.

The sarsaparilla root of the tropics does not by itself achieve these results. It is aided by the extracts combined with it, of still greater power. So great is this union of healing virtues, Syphilis or Venereal and Mercurial Diseases are cured by it, though a long time is required for subduing these obstinate maladies by any medicine. Leucorrhœa or Whites, Uterine Ulcerations, and Female Diseases in general, are commonly soon relieved and ultimately cured by the invigorating and purifying effect of our Sarsaparilla. Rheumatism and Gout, often dependent on the accumulations of extraneous matters in the blood, have their remedy also in this medicine. For Liver Complaints, torpidity, inflammation, chronic, etc., caused by rankling poisons in the blood, we unhesitatingly recommend the Sarsaparilla.

This medicine restores health and vigor where no specific disease can be distinguished. Its restorative power is soon felt by those who are Languid, Listless, Despondent, Sleepless, and filled with Nervous Apprehensions or Fears, or who are troubled with any other of those affections symptomatic of weakness. Many, after taking it for General Debility, have written us of the youthful vigor imparted to their nervous system, which seemed buoyant with that prolific life they thought had departed on the advance of age. Others, whose fountains of life were always sterile, acknowledge their obligations to it for an obvious change.

Ayer's Ague Cure,

For Fever and Ague, Intermittent Fever, Chill Fever, Remittent Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical or Bilious Fever, &c., and indeed all the affections which arise from malarious, marsh, or miasmatic poisons.

As its name implies, it does Cure, and does not fail. Containing neither Arsenic, Quinine, Bismuth, Zinc, nor any other mineral or poisonous substance whatever, it in nowise injures any patient. The manner and importance of its cures in the ague districts, are literally beyond account, and we believe without a parallel in the history of medicine. Our pride is gratified by the acknowledgments we receive of the radical cures effected in obstinate cases, and where other remedies had wholly failed.

Unacclimated persons, either resident in, or travelling through miasmatic localities, will be protected by taking the AGUE CURE daily.

For Liver Complaints, arising from torpidity of the Liver, it is an excellent remedy, stimulating the Liver into healthy activity.

THE SENTINEL.

LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 30, 1869.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.—Fly Killer.
Private Boarding House at Beaufort.
Smut Machine for sale, a cider mill, and sewing chairs, W. H. Jones & Co.
Peruvian Guano, Douglas Bell.

FIRST COTTON BLOOM.—We have had laid on our table two cotton blooms, which are the first we have heard of in Wake, and the second in the State. These are from the "Marsh Creek" farm of Dr. Miller, five miles north of Raleigh, on which Lewis Lindsey and Riley Green, colored, are the Foremen.

KILPATRICK'S MAN.—General Ditto Estes, Collector for the Goldsboro' District, is at the Yarborough House. He was Kilpatrick's Adjutant General, and occupied Dr. Blackwall's house when Sherman camped at Durham's. The same who did not resent an insult off red by the member from Caswell, Mr. Hodnett, because of his age, which was 59. The same who ran at old Mr. Pearyman, of 70 years of age, with a stick, for saying "ditto." The same who, by Harris, of Franklin, was offered a fight in any way and at any time he wished. The same who said, "If any man would shoot Jo Turner in the back, he could get a pardon, or have the pardon in his pocket when he did the shooting." If we knew that his business here was to apply to the Governor for the pardon, in advance, we would send for Harris, of Franklin. Did Estes, in this matter, speak by authority of the Leagues or the Governor?

VIDI.—We have received a communication over this signature, enclosing what purports to be a poetic description of some wonderful eggs that turned into chickens in a wonderful manner in the old egg basket. We would publish it, as requested, but are decidedly of opinion that the writing of poetry is not our friend's mission.

COUNTERFEIT DETECTOR.—Can any of our mercantile friends accommodate us with the loan of a book containing fac similes of all the genuine bills of the National Banks throughout the country, and the counterfeits of the same? We learn that several of them subscribed for such a book to a Mr. Eckert, some time in May, who very honestly gave his receipt for the four dollars and a half, advance, for it, together with a twenty five cent glass to look at those specimens through, when they come.

In the meantime, if the have not arrived, our friends can amuse themselves by viewing the anatomical and physiological structure of fleas and other small game through the microscopical portion of their purchase.

PROGRESSING.—The Chatham Railroad, we learn, is completed from Carey, on the N. C. R. R. to within two miles of Haywood. The terminus of the completed portion has been named "Pullet Station," in honor of "Chicken" Gunter, one of the representatives in the Legislature from Chatham county.

PERSONAL.—Gen. M. W. Ransom arrived in this city yesterday afternoon. The General looks well and seems to be enjoying fine health.

solly pool, Assessor for the District, and President of what was once the University of North Carolina, arrived this morning by the gravel train, from Durham.

SUPREME COURT.—The Court met pursuant to adjournment; all the Justices present.

The following cases were argued:

Vance vs. Sumner & Hutchinson, from Rowan County. R. C. Badger for Plaintiff. Messrs. Wilson & Bailey for defendant.

Avery vs. Hutchinson & Sumner, from Rowan. Kerr Craig for Plaintiff. Messrs Wilson & Bailey for Defendant.

Sarah Hill vs. Tobias Kesler, from Rowan County. Bailey for Plaintiff. McCorkle Defendant.

A RELIC OF THE PAST.—A friend has laid on our table an old certificate of a land survey, made in Johnston county, prior to the Revolution, accompanied by a plot of the survey. The following is a copy of the certificate:

State of No. Carolina
Aug. ye 27th 1771.

Surveyed for Dempsey Perry a tract or parcel of land lying in Johnston county on the No. side of Neuse River, on Hinton's Creek, up the creek and so round for complement, Beginning at a White Oak on the Wn. side of ad creek and running No. three hundred and twenty pole to a Black Jack, then E three hundred and twenty pole to a post Oak then So. three hundred and twenty pole to a pine and then a Direct line to the first station, containing six hundred and forty acres.

JOHN BROWN, Surveyor.

WILLIAM WALL, } Ch'n. Brs.
JESSE WALL, }

The plot is drawn "by a scale of 200 to the inch," and the chirography is of that quaint style which characterized the time in which it was written. Who owns that tract of land now? and through how many hands has it passed since this survey for Dempsey Perry?

The Fayetteville Eagle offers a copy of Webster Unabridged for the best original essay on farming, stock raising or mechanics, to be handed in by the 1st of August.

STRUCK BY LIGHTNING.—During the thunder storm of Thursday, the lightning struck the mast of a small schooner lying in Trent river, shivering it to pieces. No other damage was done.—Journal Commerce.

"Figures won't lie," is an old and homely expression, but few men can look on a fashionable woman's figure now-a-days and say as much.

An English gentleman, having made a rock work planted with ferns in front of his house, presumed upon the ignorance of callers for alms by posting up this notice: "Beggars beware! Scolopendriums and polypodiums are set here."

MEETING LAST NIGHT.

In accordance with the published notice, a meeting of the Conservatives and Democrats of this city, for the purpose of appointing delegates to the Convention to be held at Franklinton, to nominate a candidate to fill the vacancy in this Senatorial District, occasioned by the death of R. I. Wynne, Esq., was held at the Court House last evening.

On motion, Capt. J. Q. D. Carteret was called to the chair, who explained briefly the object of the meeting.

Mr. Theo. N. Ramsay was appointed Secretary.

On motion the following gentlemen were appointed to attend the aforesaid Convention:

Dr. J. A. J. Perry, W. D. Mitchell, B. G. Rogers, J. M. Beck, T. J. Allen, Thos. Cozart, Dr. A. J. Thompson, W. H. Gulley, D. C. Halliburton, Dr. W. N. Hicks, Dr. R. Fleming, Calvin Upchurch, A. T. Mial, G. H. Faribault, Lynn Banks, L. J. Stephenson, Capt. W. E. Pierce, Jesse Winburne, Dr. F. Dowd, P. A. Dunn, E. H. Ray, H. P. Tucker, J. J. Overby, C. B. Root, John C. Syme, Dr. R. B. Haywood, Malcom Harrison, J. J. Ferrell, M. A. Bledsoe, J. H. Separks J. C. Palmer, Douglas Bell, N. V. Denton, Dr. W. J. Busbee, Jacob Fleming, Capt. J. C. Gorman, C. C. Crow, F. H. Busbee, Peter Fleming, P. Donaghey, Hillard Bell, Capt. G. M. Whiting, R. K. Ferrell, W. H. Moore, B. F. Chestham, G. P. Moore, Samuel Merrill, W. C. Parker, E. F. Harris, David Lewis, and R. W. Taylor.

On motion the name of the Chairman was added to the list of the delegates.

After the transaction of some further business the meeting adjourned.

The day of the meeting of the Convention will be announced in due time and it is to be hoped that as many of the delegates appointed from this county, as possible will attend.

The opinion of Chief Justice Pearson, in the case of Harrell vs. Watson, from Hertford, will be found, correctly given, in another column. The report of it in this morning's Standard was incorrect, owing, no doubt, to the haste in which his short hand reporter had to transcribe his report as it was delivered from the Bench.

For the Sentinel.

Mr. Turner:—Having observed in the Sentinel of yesterday, but a slight notice of the Concert, given by the school of the Misses Nash and Miss Kollock, and believing that you desire more particular and extended information, which it so richly merits, it affords me pleasure to give you a more enlarged account of it.

It was my privilege, with many others, to be present at the Concert, and, to lovers of music and those who have devot d much time to its cultivation, a rich treat was afforded. On entering the brilliantly lighted hall, beautifully and tastefully decorated with flowers, the walls adorned with elegantly executed paintings and drawings, which reflected credit on the young ladies, and on their accomplished teacher, Miss Nash, we felt as if in fairyland, and the lovely and graceful appearance of the young ladies wreathed in flowers, with joyous faces and sweetest smiles, filled our hearts with joy and gladness, reflected from their own bright faces. In regard to the music, we can hardly say too much. In the sweet melody of song, or in waking soft, or bold and lofty strains on the pianos, the young ladies drew forth the admiration of a large, attentive and appreciative audience, and reflected credit on their accomplished and faithful instructor, Professor Lamm, and on their own diligent and persevering improvement of his valuable instructions. We were particularly struck with the accurate attention to time, which was manifested by even the youngest performers, and those who understand music, can well appreciate this important excellence, so often neglected and so rarely acquired. But it is not only in the display of the public concert, and in the proficiency of its pupils in music, that this school stands unrivalled; its intellectual, moral and religious influence, has long commanded the respect and admiration of all, and the patronage of many; but "we speak what we do know," when we say, that of the constant, daily, private influence for good exer ed in this school, over the young committed to its trust, parents have no adequate idea, or it would be thronged with applicants to place children under such hallowed influences. The physical comfort of those under its care, how tenderly, faithfully watched over; no mother could more tenderly guard her children from danger, and from everything that could injure either health or comfort. The blessing of God has rested on this Institution, it is a remarkable fact, that in the ten years, in which it has been in operation, not a death has occurred nor a case of severe illness, which under God, we attribute, to the tender, watchful care of the teachers, and the healthfulness of the climate. The teachers never, for one moment, forget the high and sacred responsibilities which rest upon them, and even go beyond what duty requires of them.

Such a school demands the patronage of those who value education, and the highly intellectual, moral and religious influence which it affords. We must not forget to speak in terms of admiration of the music afforded by some of the young ladies of the town, some of whom were former pupils of Professor Lamm, who heightened the enjoyment, and lent enchantment to the occasion, by their fine performance on the pianos. But all were beautiful, all were interesting, the sweet voices in song, the delightful strains on the fine instruments, the bright appearance of the whole scene and circumstances of the evening, will long dwell in the heart of the writer, and cheer and brighten much of the future.

A LITERARY CONCLUSION.—Friday the 18th—was the appointed day for the public exercises of the Freedmens' School near Leasburg. There was a grand gathering of the colored people. The afternoon was spent in examination and at night there were addresses, dialogues, &c. Then came a general fight in which clubs, sticks, pistols and fists acted well their parts. Bruises and wounds were given and received. But nobody was killed. And this was "the conclusion of the whole matter."—Hillsboro Recorder.

LEG BROKE.—We regret to learn that Mr. R. P. Hancock of Leasburg had his leg broke last Thursday evening. He was riding horseback and his horse stumbled over a hog and fell with him.

Our columns of State items is necessarily meagre, to-day, from the simple fact that our State exchanges contain nothing of interest as occurring in their respective localities,

The Mississippi Conservatives will probably have a State convention, and act with the moderate Republicans.

Shortly after the body was exhumed, and portions of it were sent to Albany for examination. The analysis was made by Dr. C. H Porter, who discovered in them considerable quantities of arsenic.

Columbus, Ohio, has a mysterious murder. On Friday morning, a negro named Barns got a horse and spring wagon from one of the business firms to take the remains of his wife, as he stated, to Greenlawn cemetery for interment, on the plea that he was too poor to get a hearse. After depositing the coffin in the dead house, he requested the sexton to dig a grave, and then started back to the city with the wagon, saying he would return at ten o'clock and attend the burial of his wife.—He did not return, and late in the afternoon the coffin was opened and found to contain the remains of a white woman.—Up to this time the negro has not been found, and the mystery still remains unexplained.

Fanny Ferris, an old negro woman aged 107 years, died in Nashville, Tennessee, on Wednesday. She was born in Virginia in 1762, and witnessed the Revolutionary struggle from the beginning to the close.—She was captured by Lord Cornwallis, and remained in Yorktown during its siege by Washington and Lafayette, the incidents of which she could vividly describe. During all the days of a life she lived a slave in the family of the Ferrises, and died at last on the farm of the great-grandson of her first master, and was buried in the Ferris family graveyard. Fanny retained her faculties, but little impaired, to the time of her death.

CALL FOR A JEWISH CONVENTION.—The two oldest rabbis in the United States, Drs. S. Adler and D. Eluhon, have issued a call for a rabbinical conference, for the purpose of introducing reform. They say: "Reformed Judaism has become a power from which even the so called orthodox congregations cannot exclude themselve any longer, and all that is required to more firmly establish this power is the concurrence of like thinking rabbis on the principles, not the form of modern worship, and the solution of various practical religions, especially martial questions, which are now decided in most positive contradiction to the principles of reform, and according to the Schulchan Aruch. The undersigned therefore invite their theologically educated colleagues who favor decided religious progress to a rabbinical conference, to be held some time after the coming holidays."

The conference is endorsed by several of the Jewish papers.

A DOUBLE APPOINTMENT.—Gen. J. C. Robinson recently called upon the President and thanked him for appointing his son a cadet to West Point, but declined the honor, on the ground that the President had already appointed the same young man a cadet at the Naval Academy.

FROM VIRGINIA.

RICHMOND June 29.—Gen. Canby issued an order to-day extending the stay law to January 1st, 1870, in all cases where one years interest on the debt is paid before August next, but allowing executions to be heard in cases where such interest is not paid.

A large Republican meeting in the park this afternoon was addressed by Van Wyck, of New York, Beers of Montana, and others. Near the close of the meeting, a White Republican in the crowd dissented from one of the speakers, and the negroes thinking he was a Conservative, set on him and beat him severely. The police rescued him.

Gilbert C. Walker, Democratic candidate for Governor, arrived to-night. He was serenaded by Conservatives, and spoke in response.

FROM VIRGINIA.

RICHMOND, June 30.—Last night, in Petersburg, Van Wyck, of New York, addressed a Republican meeting. Conservatives present asked for a division of time and that not being allowed the next Radical speaker could not be heard on account of the loud and prolonged calls for Conservative speakers. The negroes then formed into a body and on a god on the whites present, driving them away with bricks and charged them through the streets.

It appears that the whites went to the meeting with the impression that a division of time was to be allowed. Neither party used fire arms and nobody was seriously injured.

WAITING.

Learn to wait—life's hardest lesson,
Conned, perchance, through blinding tears;
While the heart-throbs sadly echo,
To the tread of passing years

Learn to wait—hope's slow fruition;
Faint not though the way seems long;
There is joy in each condition,
Hearts, though suffering, may grow strong.

Constant sunshine, howe'er welcome,
Ne'er would ripen fruit or flower;
Giant oaks owe half their greatness
To the soothing tempest's power.

Thus a soul, untouched by sorrow,
Aims not at a higher state;
Joy seeks not a brighter morrow,
Only sad hearts learn to wait.

Human strength and human greatness,
Spring not from life's sunny side,
Heroes must be more than driftwood,
Floating on a waveless tide.

Pat, attending a "Broadbrim" convention for the first time, was much astonished and puzzled withal at the manner of worship.—Having been told that they "spake even as they were moved by the Spirit," he watched the proceedings with increased disgust for their "haythen way of worship," till one young Quaker arose and commenced solemnly: "Brethren I have married—" "The devil ye have," interrupted Pat. The Quaker sat down in confusion, but the spirit moving Pat no further, the young man mustered courage and broke out again: "Brethren, I have married a daughter of the Lord." "The devil ye have that!" said Pat; "but it'll be a long while before iver ye'll see your father-in-law."

A young country woman making application for a situation as governess, and being asked how she would treat teaching children, said: "When a child persists in crying, or in the language of the nursery, becomes fractious, all one has to do is to turn it upside down and thumb it on the back—you can have no idea how quiet all children will become under this treatment. At first they cried louder than ever, but after a time they give a kind of gasp, and when most of their breath has been judiciously thumped out, they cease altogether.'

"Sir," said a burly fellow, of no enviable character, "I have the largest neck of any man in the city."

"Very likely," said his neighbor; "and I saw yesterday the largest rope in the city.—Now, put that and that together, and we'll see how tall you are."

LIFE INSURANCE.

NATIONAL

LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY,
OF THE
UNITED STATES OF AMERICA,
WASHINGTON, D. C.

Chartered by Special Act of Congress, Approved July 25th, 1868.

CASH CAPITAL,
PAID IN FULL.

It is no longer a question with any man, who tenderly loves his wife and children, who considers how helpless would be their condition in case of his death, as to the duty of taking out a LIFE POLICY, but as to which Company he shall pay his money.

If he reflects a moment he will conclude to patronize the Company which shows the greatest degree of vitality, which extends its business over the largest area, which is a Home Company in every locality; which furnishes insurance at the least cost; which issues no policies that are forfeitable should he be unable next year, or any subsequent year to pay his renewal; and which is undoubtedly able to meet ALL ITS PROMISES.

With these feelings and views, he looks over the newspapers and, by the time he gets through reading the advertisements of Mutual or Mixed Companies, he finds his mind so muddled that he is at a loss where to go or what to do. He can not comprehend one-half that is written, and concludes that none but ACTUARIES, who are familiar with the principles upon which Life Insurance is based can comprehend or explain anything about dividends and his liability for notes given in part payment of premiums. In his dilemma, he roosts into the plan adopted by the

LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY,
U. S. A.,

and finds just what he wants:

An ALL-CASH PLAN, reduced to the LOWEST MINIMUM Rate, like any commodity in Market, so much Insurance for so much Money. No notes to give; no interest to pay; no anxiety about Assessments; no apprehension of his Policy being forfeited next year if he does not pay his annual Renewal; and the RATES so much LOWER than other Companies, that he realizes a larger Dividend, IN ADVANCE, than other Companies can pay him in the future.

He finds that, instead of this UNCERTAIN PROMISE, and present high rate, that the presents a certain and definite sum for a much lower rate, and puts up its paid up Capital of

as a guarantee fund, that its contracts will be fulfilled, and, like thousands of others, cheerfully calls on their Agent to make his application for a Policy. Hence the unprecedented and most wonderful success of the NATIONAL as contrasted with the older and Mutual Companies.

The Company issued its first policy on the 1st of August, 1868, and up to March 1st, 1869, it had issued 3,582 policies.

Amount insured,	$10,005,550.00
Total Premiums,	350,117.63

The whole number issued by the Connecticut Mutual in the first year of its existence was 892
By the Mutual Benefit of New Jersey, 693
" New England Mutual, 543
" Phœnix Mutual, 535
" Massachusetts Mutual, 312
" Equitable of New York, 277

The Mutual Life, of New York, in the first year of its existence, only issued 470 policies.
In its 10th year, 1,260 "
And in its 20th year, 2,842 "
this latter being 690 less than was issued by the NATIONAL in its first seven months.

CAPITAL OF THE STATE

Daily, Semi-Weekly and Weekly.

NEW ARRANGEMENT.

The RALEIGH SENTINEL having passed under the Editorial management of the undersigned, it will, from the present date, be conducted by him.

It will be the zealous and fearless advocate of the CONSTITUTION of the United States, seeking to bring the people back to their ancient reverence for that immortal instrument, and to restore the policy of the country to that honored standard, as the only guarantee of National prosperity.

It will do justice to the men and measures of the present day, whenever they may merit it, but it will unsparingly lash and denounce all who set themselves up in opposition to the Federal Constitution, and hold up to the public indignation corruption and imbecility in high places.

It will ardently seek the promotion of the best interests of North Carolina,—moral, educational, material and political.

THE LATEST NEWS

From every quarter, both by mail and telegraph, will be carefully collated and presented.

Full and correct market and financial reports will be given.

And, in one word, no effort will be spared to make the SENTINEL, in all respects, a reliable
